

DANIEL J. MURPHY, JR, MD

Co-Leader, Well-Being Directors Council, Stanford Medicine
Director of Ambulatory Care, Lucile Packard Children's Hospital

Dr. Murphy received his Bachelor's degree from Stanford University and his M.D. from the University of Southern California. He completed his Residency in Pediatrics and Fellowship in Pediatric Cardiology at Children's Hospital Medical Center in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was the Director of the Pediatric Echocardiography Laboratory and the Adult Congenital Heart Clinic at the Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, Ohio from 1989 to 2001. He joined the faculty at Stanford in October 2001, where he is currently Professor of Pediatrics (Cardiology) at Stanford University School of Medicine. He is also the Medical Director of Ambulatory Services for Stanford Children's Health and the Medical Director of the Outpatient Heart Center at Lucile Packard Children's Hospital Stanford.

His major interests are in noninvasive cardiology and clinical pediatric and congenital cardiac disease. He is also involved in developing Quality metrics and Lean process improvement. Dan has been affiliated with the WellMD Center since its inception.